From the Driver's Seat

By Michael Soriano

As Lisa and I return from PARADE, I am so pleased to have been able to share the PARADE experience with so many Maumee Valley members. As I stated last month, there were close to 50

MVR members registered for Parade in Traverse City. In addition, a few members just came up for a day or two to explore the Concours and to get a feel for what PARADE is all about.

With nearly 1800 Porscephiles congregated in one location, Porsche, AG, often does something special for PCA members. This year they surprised everyone by flying over two not yet released cars. At the Welcome Party, they unveiled the 50th Anniversary 911, and at the Concours Banquet, they actually drove the new GT3 into the ballroom!!

On Monday afternoon, Lisa and I explored the Concours, and among the historical display, was the first 911 ever produced, now owned by Porsche Enthusiast Jerry Seinfeld. While at the Concours, we ran into Roger Holliday who was working on an article for the Porsche Post, and he had one goal for the trip, which I was able to help him achieve. Roger, having worked at the Porsche Factory from 1961-1964, really wanted to meet Hans Peter Porsche. Through our friend, Paul Gregor, who works for Porsche, AG and PCNA, the meeting was made possible. It was a fantastic sight to watch Roger and Hans Peter share memories and stories; afterward, we all posed for a few pictures.

It was also great to see a large number of our members get to participate in one of my favorite events at Parade, Michelin's Drive and Compare. However, this year the event was so popular, it was simply Michelin Drive. Each participant had the opportunity to drive a new 991 cab through a small autocross course accompanied by a Porsche Driving Experience Instructor. Knowing that once wouldn't be enough for either of us, Lisa and I registered for both days and went back on Tuesday for our second appointment. As the shuttle bus entered the casino parking lot, a local sheriff was parked at the edge of the course. A few minutes later, he was standing out of his car just watching; after about 35 minutes, one of the Michelin employees walked over to him to see if there was a problem. There wasn't; the sheriff was just hoping he could get a chance to give the course a try in the 991 cab, of course.

Tuesday evening, we attended the Concours Banquet with the Ambruses, the Gargaszs, and the Jennens. Congratulations to Gary and Pat who won an award for their Concours entry. A number of our members gave a great deal of their time to volunteering, Beth and Barney Stewart led a couple of Driving Tours to the Leelanau Peninsula, and we heard it was a wonderful tour. We led a winery bus tour and a driving tour to Mackinac Island. Others assisted with the driving tours, worked in Hospitality, at the Autocross, and in the Goodie Store. It is one of the best ways to meet people from other regions and make friends that will last for years.

Saturday was the Parade of Porsches which included nearly 300 cars and covered 17 miles, but before that was the 5K walk and run, and the Volunteer lunch, where everyone that volunteers for at least 2 sessions of 4 hours, gets a buffet lunch and an opportunity to win prizes ranging from parade logo wear to a set of tires. Saturday evening was the Victory Banquet. One of the things they do each year is announce the winner(s) of the Spring/Summer Member Only Raffle; this year instead of showing a video of Vu surprising the winner at home, they decided to announce it live. The presentation was done with a "Price is Right" theme and Manny Alban, National PCA President, called up 4 couples, having each one pick a key to try to start the new Cayman. One of those couples was our own Ron and Susan Parker. Two couples each won a new Cayman and $25,000. It turned out that Ron and Susan along with one other couple, were in on the surprise, but the rest of us were not, and the 3 tables of Maumee Valley members were all rooting for Ron's key to start the car. We spoke to the Parkers later in the evening, and they said that PARADE had been a wonderful experience; it appeared as though everyone had a truly enjoyable time. And as is customary at every Victory Banquet, the next 2

PARADE locations and the next 3 ESCAPE locations were announced. Next year, PARADE will be in Monterey, CA and nearby again the following year in French Lick, IN. The next 3 ESCAPES will be held in Los Angeles, CA, Orlando, FL, and Keystone, SD, near Mt. Rushmore.

On, June 8, The Ledermans hosted the 2nd annual RC Autocross Fundraiser at their home in Swanton, and everyone that attended had a great time. 100% of the money raised will go to Charity; this year we are supporting the Pat Tillman Foundation and Planned Pethood.

Looking ahead to July, the Irish Hills Driving Tour and Beach Bar Lunch with Rally Sport is Saturday, July 13. Cars and Coffee is Sunday, July 14, and our July Social Event: the Party at the Macks in Tiffin is Saturday July 20 at 5:30 p.m. The final weekend of the month brings P20 in Granville as well as the Concours d'Elegance of America at St. John's honoring the 911. On August 11 is the monthly Cars and Coffee immediately followed by the Porsche Ladies Tea. And be sure to mark your calendars, because our annual scenic drive to Catawba Island and Brunch at Mon Ami Winery is Sunday, August 18.

As you can see, our calendar is extremely full and events are continually being added. So, please continue to check the website <http://mm.pca.org>, Der RUCKSPIEGEL, and your inbox for the most up to date information on events available to you.

I hope to see you at an event soon!

Thanks,

Michael

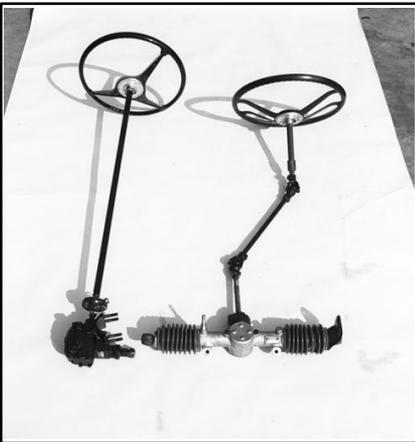

Remember to keep the Blink Alive!!!!

The innovations

By Dr. Ing. F. Porsche AG

The innovations

For five decades, the Porsche 911 has set the standards for its class in terms of performance and efficiency. With each generation, the Porsche 911 has raised the bar even higher. The Porsche engineers from Zuffenhausen and Weissach have reinvented the 911 again and again and have thus impressively demonstrated the innovativeness of the Porsche brand. Although the 911 has constantly been ahead of the field in terms of sportiness, driving performance has never been the developers' only focus. The 911 has always stood out due to intelligent ideas and technologies which combined performance, everyday usability, safety and durability.

1963: Three-part safety steering system

For its launch in 1963, the Porsche 911 was fitted with rack-and-pinion steering which had already been praised for its precise and very direct mode of operation in previous test reports. This steering system was also part of the vehicle's safety concept. The linkage had a three-part design and the steering box was positioned in the centre of the vehicle. Therefore the steering wheel did not move directly towards the driver in the event of frontal impact but, due to the steering rod angle, moved away from the driver via the impact tubes and the release elements. Porsche continued to improve the safety steering system. Subsequent generations also featured a mesh tube as the crumple element. From 1991, Porsche was the first car manufacturer to equip all its models with driver and front passenger airbags as standard.

1965: Targa roll-over protection bar

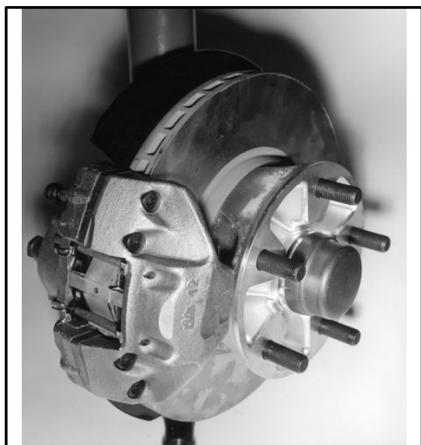

The first standard safety cabriolet in the world – these were the headlines when Porsche presented the first 911 Targa at the IAA in September 1965. The innovation in the new sports car model was the fixed Targa bar, derived from the roll-over protection bar which had proven itself in motor racing events and guaranteed a high level of protection for the occupants. With its removable folding roof and the plastic rear window that could be folded down, the 911 Targa was also extremely flexible and offered its occupants no less than four different options for open-top or closed-top driving. And the hood concept, patented in August 1965, also had other advantages. It solved the problem of the fabric hood bulging unattractively at speed on motorways just as reliably as it did the issue of body distortion, which was common with convertibles at that time. However, the main concept behind the 911 Targa was clearly its high standard of passive safety which was appreciated by many customers. As early as the beginning of the 1970s the Targa had an approximately 40 per cent share of the 911 series.

1966: Internally ventilated disc brakes

Effective cooling of the brakes is important in a high-performance vehicle – only then can they stably and repeatedly brake the car at high speeds. Therefore Porsche introduced internally ventilated discs to the 911 S as early as 1966. These discs are double-walled so that air can circulate and frictional heat is reduced. Furthermore, the perforations also have the advantage that water spray is conducted away from the discs very quickly. To improve cooling even more, the disc brake systems on later 911 types also have ram air ducts that guide fresh air through channels onto the brake discs from the front – from openings in the spoiler. No other manufacturer invests so much know-how into the brake systems on their series production cars as Porsche. This is because no other manufacturer has as much experience from motor racing as Porsche. The reason being that Porsche has always developed the brake systems for its racing cars itself. The rewards for all this effort are not only brake systems that are extremely stable and therefore play their part in high-precision driving, the Porsche series production vehicles also always boast the shortest braking distances in their class – a significant safety benefit on public roads.

....the Checkered Flag!

Deb and I had a great time in Traverse City at Parade. The weather prediction for the week indicated rain but it only rained at night and not while we were out on the many driving tours. We were able to spend time with friends that we have not seen since last year. We had a lovely evening with Roberta Heller, Denis Moore, and Les Checel from Northern Ohio Region and we spent time with Nancy and Jeff DeRoos from the Oregon Region. We are already planning on next year's trip to Monterey.

This month has a full calendar of events starting with the autocross on July 7th and then there is the Rally Sport Region tour of the Irish Hills on the 13th. On the 20th, the Macks will be hosting a party at their house in Tiffin. Finally, at the end of the month will be P2O in Granville, Ohio.

In August, Deb and I will be leading a tour through northwest Ohio to the brunch at Mon Ami restaurant on the 18th. This is one of our favorite events and we're looking forward to the trip!

Flash your headlights at a fellow Porsche owner on the road!! Keep the kindred spirit alive!!
